Detainee survey methodology

A representative survey of detainees is carried out at the start of every inspection, the results of which contribute to the evidence base for the inspection.

HMI Prisons researchers developed a self-completion questionnaire in September 2017 (revised in May 2021) to support HMI Prisons' Expectations. This was adapted further in November 2021 to make it suitable to the Military Corrective Training Centre (MCTC). The questionnaire consists of structured questions covering the detainee 'journey' from reception to release together with demographic and background questions which enables comparison of responses from different sub-groups of the detainee population. There are also three open questions at the end of the questionnaire which allow detainees to express in their own words what they find most positive and negative about the prison.

Distributing and collecting questionnaires

HMI Prisons researchers distributed and collected the questionnaires in person. A cover sheet was included with the questionnaire which explained the purpose of the survey and that participation was voluntary. Assurances were given about confidentiality, anonymity and the storage and retention of the data. Detainees were provided with a sealable envelope for their completed questionnaire and told when researchers would return to collect it. Due to social distancing measures researchers were not able to obtain verbal consent from detainees and therefore returned and completed questionnaires were deemed as providing consent. However, it was also not possible to conduct interviews with detainees who had literacy problems or visual impairments.

Survey responses

At the time of the survey on 17 January 2022 the detainee population at the MCTC was 32. There was no sampling conducted due to the small population size, and instead questionnaires were distributed to all 32 detainees. We received a total of 30 completed questionnaires, a response rate of 94%.

Detainee survey results and analyses

Over the following pages we present the full survey results followed by numerous comparative analyses for the MCTC. For the comparator analyses, where relevant, each question was reformulated using the Chi-square test (or Fisher's exact test if there are fewer than five expected counts in a cell) into a binary 'yes/no' format and affirmative responses compared. Missing responses have been excluded from all analyses and for some questions, responses from a sub-group of the sample are reported (as indicated in the data).

Responses from the MCTC compared with those from previous MCTC surveys

These analyses are carried out on summary data from all survey questions. As we have been using a revised version of the questionnaire since the last inspection, we do not yet have full comparator data for all questions.

- Survey responses from the MCTC in 2022 compared with survey responses from the MCTC in 2017.

Comparisons between self-reported sub-populations of detainees within the MCTC 2022

These analyses are carried out on summary data from selected survey questions only.

- Responses of detainees from the Army compared with those from other Armed Services.

Please note that we only carry out within-prison comparator analysis where there is a minimum of 10 responses in each comparison group.

In the comparator analyses, statistically significant differences are indicated by shading. The probability threshold (i.e. p-value) is set at 0.01 which means that there is a 1% likelihood the statistically significant difference between the two groups is due to chance. Results that are significantly more positive are indicated by green shading and results that are significantly more negative are indicated by blue shading. Orange shading has been used to show a statistically significant difference in demographic or other background details. If there is no shading, any difference between the two results is not statistically significant and may have occurred by chance. Grey shading indicates that there are no valid comparative data for that question.

Filtered questions are indented and preceded by an explanation in italics of how the filter has been applied. In the comparator analyses, percentages for filtered questions refer to the number of respondents filtered to that question. For all other questions, percentages refer to the total number of valid responses to the question.
