1	The Governor and Head of Healthcare should clarify the role of the Wellbeing Unit so that all staff working there understand their relative responsibilities. There should be a clear protocol for the palliative care suite and other cells used for seriously ill or terminally ill prisoners, who should have appropriate care plans outlining when night time checks are needed.	Accepted	The role of the Wellbeing Unit has been clearly defined in a document entitled "Wellbeing Unit – Promoting a Progressive Environment. Referral, Admission, Care Planning and Discharge Procedures". All managers will be reminded of the procedures set out in this document, and particularly of the need to ensure that staff working nights in the Wellbeing Unit have an understanding of the role of the unit and understand the individual needs of the prisoners in it and their responsibilities towards them. Palliative care and end of life arrangements are currently being reviewed to ensure a cohesive approach that will include a palliative care register to ensure ongoing multi-disciplinary team involvement in meeting the needs of individuals and clear communication regarding the level of night time checks required. The palliative care suite is also being refurbished, in a joint venture between the prison and the healthcare provider.	Head of Healthcare August 2016
