

Reference: FOI 537 Freedom of Information Request

Thank you for your email, which we received on 28 February 2024. Your request has been handled under the Freedom of Information Act 2000.

You asked us:

For information on the number of people that died as a result of suicide / self-harm in prisons in the years 2018, 2019, 2020, 2021, 2022 and 2023.

Our response:

We have searched our records and we hold the requested information on the above question. A copy of the information that you requested is shown below.

For the purposes of this request, we have provided a breakdown of the self-inflicted deaths in prisons between 2018 and 2023.

Please note the Prisons and Probation Ombudsman's (PPO) definition of a self-inflicted death is the death of a person who has apparently taken their own life and the circumstances suggest it was deliberate, irrespective of whether it would meet the legal definition of intent (suicide).

The PPO does not determine the cause of death. This is determined by a coroner following an inquest. Cases are separated into administrative categories, which may differ from a coroner's conclusions. Classifications may change during an investigation. However, they are not altered following the conclusion of the inquest.

The data is also based on when the PPO was notified of the death.

Year	Number of self-inflicted deaths
2018	91
2019	84
2020	67
2021	84
2022	71
2023	94
Total	491

OFFICIAL

You have the right to appeal against our response if you think it is incorrect. Details can be found in the 'How to Appeal' section attached at the end of this letter.

The Prisons and Probation Ombudsman (PPO) carries out independent investigations into complaints and deaths in custody. The detailed role and responsibilities of the PPO are set out in our office's Terms of Reference. The PPO has three main duties:

- to investigate complaints made by prisoners, young people in detention (prisons and secure training centres), offenders under probation supervision and individuals detained under immigration powers (detained individuals)
- to investigate deaths of prisoners, young people in detention, approved premises' residents and detained individuals due to any cause, including any apparent suicides and natural causes
- to investigate deaths of recently released prisoners that occur within 14 days of release from prison (except homicide)

The purpose of these investigations is to understand what happened, to correct injustices and to identify learning for the organisations whose actions we oversee so that the PPO makes a significant contribution to safer, fairer custody and offender supervision.

We may use or share your data only to the necessary extent when conducting our independent investigations in the exercise of our official authority. We will share your data with third parties (e.g. the prison) in order to make sure the information is accurate; to prevent or detect failings; and to identify lessons learnt. We may sometimes need to share your data with third parties if required by law. We only keep your personal data for as long as it is needed, as set out in our data retention policy. If you need any further information about how your data is used, please contact us.

How to Appeal

Internal Review

If you are not satisfied with this response, you have the right to an internal review. The handling of your request will be looked at by someone who was not responsible for the original case, and they will make a decision as to whether we answered your request correctly.

If you would like to request a review, please write or send an email to the Prisons and Probation Ombudsman's office within two months of the date of this letter, at the following address:
