I am known as Raymond Dunlop. On Saturday 15 August 1998 at approximately 2.00 pm I was driving my dark blue Ford Mondeo estate, VRM PD, along the Bankmore Road, Omagh in the direction of the main Omagh to Ballygawley Road. As I approached the junction at the meat factory I noticed two cars parked on the grass verge to my right nearest the Ballygawley bound lane. One of these cars was a medium blue coloured Corsa or Nova which was parked behind a dark red or maroon Vauxhall Cavalier saloon. I did not notice the registration numbers of these vehicles due to the way they were parked but I did notice that the Corsa had a yellow number plate to the rear. Both cars were facing towards Omagh which I found strange as they were facing oncoming traffic and in a spot which was not convenient. I observed three children, aged probably between 6 and 8 who where playing close by the cars. There were also two males who did not seem to be paying much attention to the children. They were reading a map on the roof of the Corsa. I had observed one of the men unfolding the map. I would say these men were in their mid twenties to early thirties and all were roughly dressed. The only specific thing about these men was that one of them had a dark receding hairline. There was also one other male who was sitting in the passenger seat of the red Cavalier. I don't remember anything about this man other than he had his head down as though sleeping. I would like to add that the map was an Ordinance Survey Map.
