Ally. He talks about Canary Wharf and we don't intend to go into that here, but it goes on… the success went on, these boys aren't finished by any stretch of the imagination so in 1996 we planned together all the units were represented. But what happened at the meeting was that some of the unit commanders took it upon themselves to go against the positions from the men that had sent them there. They voted in difference to what the men wanted, so we were out flanked full and final ceasefire. At that moment we got up and left the meeting, but the majority of the people came out of that meeting and went nowhere. So in 1996 you're telling Ally that you were involved in the IRA that's 2 years before the Omagh bomb. Who's we.

McCAUGHERTY (Subject makes no reply.)

Is that you Paul and other members of the Provos. I'm putting it to you that we includes you and other terrorists and that's back in 1996. So you weren't there it would've been they done this, they done it. So it's we collective you and others. And then it goes down through. The next part there in relation to how the Real IRA got its name. It doesn't talk about we there but it certainly talks about your knowledge of the naming of the Real IRA. Then it moves on about your concern that every time something goes slightly wrong there's the Real IRA the bomb in Omagh killed 39 people. Ally asked you when that was, oh in 1998. And when it gets on down to the conversation relating to Omagh and 39 innocent people getting killed and the date of that it goes on now it's just unsure it would appear at the moment whether it's he or we, but at that part it says he/we supplied the expertise for that bomb. Did you supply the expertise for the Omagh bomb.

McCAUGHERTY (Subject makes no reply.)

Because if you read the context of the conversation it would appear clearly that it would be we then we move on to the next sentence it talks about we. So did you supply the expertise for the Omagh bomb Paul, and when you say we that is you who others supplied the expertise for the Omagh bomb.

McCAUGHERTY (Subject makes no reply.)

Because you're telling Ally it's tape recorded, there's the evidence there to say that you and others supplied the expertise for the Omagh bomb. Now is that in fact true. Who were the others along with you that supplied this expertise.
